BpE: Becoming a part of Europe:

HOW YOUTH WORK CAN SUPPORT YOUNG MIGRANTS, REFUGEES & ASYLUM SEEKERS

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS

Social inclusion of all young people, including those from a migrant background, is a key aim of the EU Youth Strategy. Youth work and non-formal learning can contribute to encouraging intercultural dialogue and building mutual understanding between young people of various backgrounds.

The Erasmus+ programme in the field of youth promotes fairness and inclusion for participants from disadvantaged backgrounds and with fewer opportunities (such as migrants or refugees) through specific support, priority setting and targeted use of funds. The BpE project, financed under Erasmus+ Key Action 3, intends to develop and share non-formal education methodologies and new inclusion practices through youth work, with a view to promoting the integration and social inclusion of young migrants, refugees and asylum seekers (YMRA) and to foster understanding, tolerance and respect among people.

Within the project, based on the expertise of participants and stakeholders involved, a set of recommendations were elaborated for improving policies related to young migrants, refugees and asylum seekers' inclusion, as well as to provide greater recognition of the role of informal and non-formal learning in youth work.

The policy recommendations are addressing different policy makers at various levels, according to the role they can play and competences they have.

LOCAL, NATIONAL & EUROPEAN LEVEL

Local, National & European Authorities should ...

A Policy makers and authorities should respect YMRAs' human rights and decide on policies based on YMRAs' rights and interests. Policy makers should stand up for human rights, in line with the International Treaties, and help to change the political discourse from a security to a human rights issue.

B Policy makers should guarantee the right of youth workers and YMRA to be heard and not being persecuted when they are taking part in any kind of youth work activities and advocacy actions.

C Policy makers, authorities and agencies must ensure adequate and sustainable funding for civil society organisations, working with YMRA. Various donors should better link existing funding schemes, in order to facilitate NGOs access to funding and support them in their actions.

D Relevant actors should establish a legal and administrative system where YMRA feel empowered and engaged while creating processes for YMRA in which they can engage and not getting further traumatized by long waiting periods.

RECOMMENDATIONS

LOCAL,
NATIONAL & EUROPEAN LEVEL

E European Institutions and EU member states/national authorities should prevent and take legal action against fake news, hate speech, racist presumptions and organizations. Policy makers must provide correct information to the general public concerning migration and prevent polarization of minorities, marginalized groups and communities.

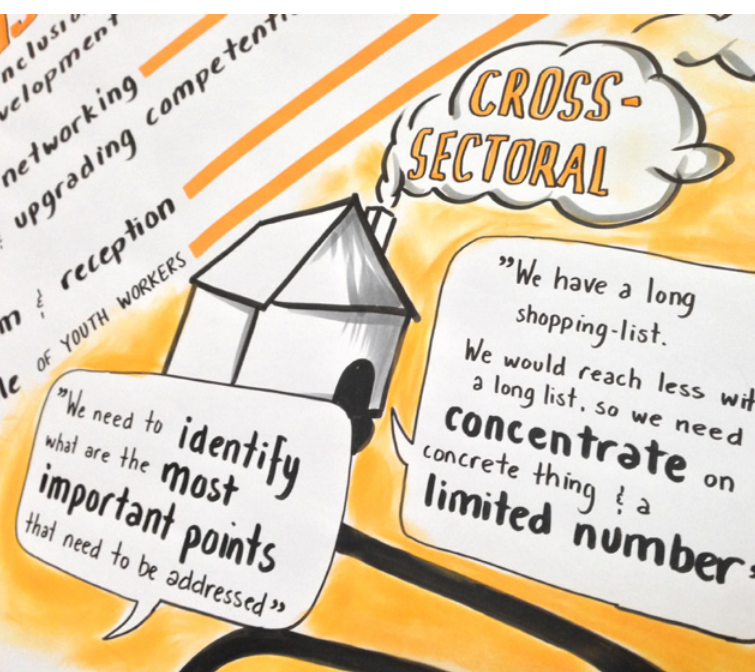

F Policy makers should make sure that all actors dealing with YMRA pay special attention to the most vulnerable groups of YMRA, secure a fair assessment and avoid placing vulnerable groups in immigration detention centres. Vulnerable groups, including LGBT+ YMRA should not be transferred in accordance with the Dublin convention.

G Stakeholders should provide adequate support for education and training schemes for youth workers in order to increase their capacities for working with YMRA. Training opportunities should address topics and skills such as intercultural competences, human rights, specific rights of YMRA, well-being, democratic citizenship, etc.

H Policy makers should ensure that all staff within the reception system actors, and civil servants working with YMRA have adequate skills and training about terminology, cultural sensitivity, intersectionality, mental health, PTSD and trauma.

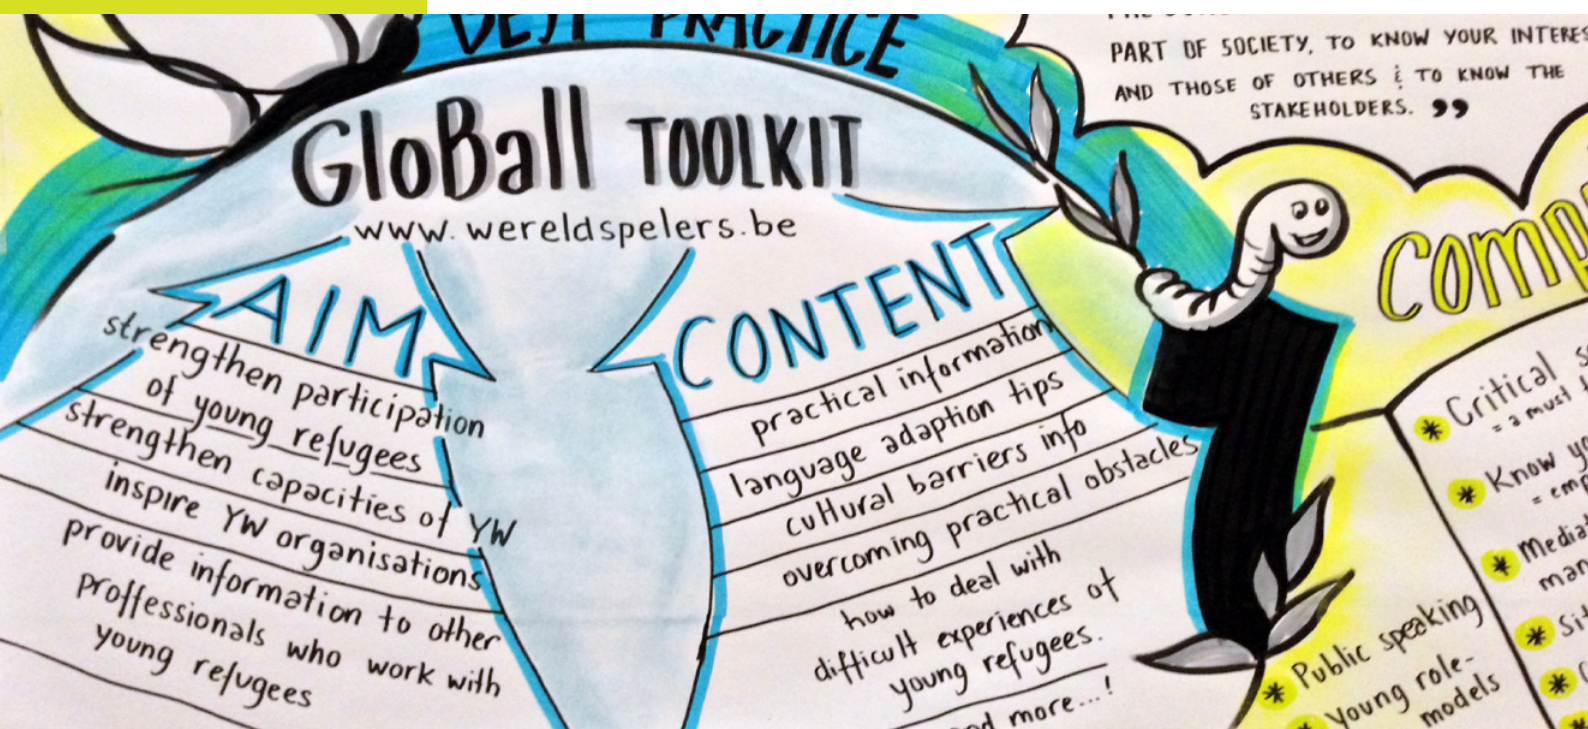

I Policy makers should establish a holistic system for helping YMRAs in satisfying their interests and needs, based on participatory approaches.

J Policy makers should support the creation of special expert units on LGBT+ and gender topics within migration authorities in order to avoid iniquitous asylum processes for LGBT+ refugees. They should also examine how a better standardization of a LGBT+ or assessment in the asylum process should be carried out.

Local Authorities should ...

A ... develop information and communication strategies together with relevant local partners addressed to the host community in order to engage local people in community activities.

C ... create and facilitate spaces for hosting communities and YMRA. Those spaces should serve for getting to know each other, providing information, creating awareness, spreading positive narratives and supporting community bonding.
